Moderator's Message

I am glad to see the first issue of SCLS Law Review 2019 after the successful completion of three consecutive issues of SCLS Law Review 2018 which is orchestrated by SCLS covering the issues of law. I am thankful to the Contributors ranging from students, teachers to other legal professionals for sharing their wisdom with our readers. SCLS has always encouraged the objective of a research aligned legal education in our law schools. We always motive research related activities to develop the researching skills among the students. Because, from the core of our heart we believe that, the efficiency in research will help them in their academic career along with professional career.

The dedication of editorial board makes a journal successful. I must appreciate the members of the editorial board for their hard and soul dedication towards their work despite having close schedule of academic classes. I applaud them for their time and hard work. I also thank Mr. Jashim Ali Chowdhury, Academic Adviser of the journal who has been consistently in touch with the process, no matter where he stays -near or far.

I am confident that the Journal will grab the attention of the students and legal enthusiasts belonging to different professions and will attain wide readership.

Editorial

After three successful illuminations of the Volume 01, Society for Critical Legal Studies (SCLS) is going to enlighten the legal enthusiasts with the 1st issue of the Volume 02 of "SCLS Law Review"- a student modified journal of the volunteers of SCLS. Following initial target of SCLS which is to bring outward changes in the overall legal instruction and knowledge building atmosphere of Bangladesh, SCLS has already displayed its pledge towards this target and sufficient schemes were also initiated to reach it. This volume of Law Review would surely be another advancement of chasing the target. The Editorial team has started their journey with the motto of spreading the whole quench of Research as well as critical legal thinking among all the students of this country. The team worked by keeping the motto in mind. Before starting the main journey, the editorial body has consulted few prominent Law Journals to make this issue of "SCLS Law Review" a balanced & compact version of its previous one.

The editorial body bestows deep gratitude to Mr. Nirmal Kumar Saha, the Moderator of SCLS and Associate Professor, Department of Law, University of Chittagong, who have guided the team with logistic support. The team is indebted to Mr. M. Jashim Ali Chowdhury, Assistant Professor, Department of Law, University of Chittagong, who is the Ambassador of SCLS and the Academic Adviser of the SCLS Law Review.

The 1st issue of SCLS Law Review Volume 2 contains write-up on several legal issues ranging from parliamentary issues, Parents maintenance, Right to privacy, women's rights during fragile situations and Application of Principle of Non-refoulment to the equal rights of third genders, Marital rape, Alternative Dispute Resolution and Development of International law in International Court of Justice. Law teachers and students from different universities have contributed to this 1st version of SCLS Law Review Volume 2.
